Recommendation to Award dated November 2011	Commercially sensitive information pertaining to the evaluation and award of contract for the supply of metering equipment	Capital expenditure	2. Market Sensitive cost inputs  4. Strategic Intelligence  5. Personal Information	2. Proposed contract values by asset type by recommended vendor and allowances for contract variations  4. Analysis & comparison of vendor unit rates, results of criteria evaluations by vendor  5. Names of vendors and names and signatures of Essential Energy staff	Availability of unit rates, contract values and allowances for variations would negatively impact the ability to obtain the most competitive costs to supply through a future public tendering process.  Availability of contract award details and associated criteria evaluations would negatively impact the privacy of vendor financial and operational information.	Obtaining the most competitive rates of supply from the market will generate savings that will be passed onto consumers in the form of lower tariffs.  The substance of information in respect of the historical and forecasted management of metering equipment can be sourced by consumers and stakeholders from CEOM8018.13 Customer Metering and CEOM8018.16 Network Metering Asset Management Plans (AMPs).
