1. Confidentiality Claims

This document sets out Transgrid's confidentiality claims for the 2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal in accordance with Australian Energy Regulator's Confidentiality Guideline 2017.

Title, page and paragraph number (i.e. section and page number)	Description of the confidential information	Topic of the confidential information	Confidentiality category	Why the confidential information falls into the selected category	How and why detriment would be caused from disclosing the confidential information	Why the identified detriment is not outweighed by the public benefit
2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal Section 3.7.1, pg 45, para 6	Opex	Insurance	Information affecting the security of the network	Our insurance policy requires Transgrid not to disclose the existence of its insurance policy to third parties.	Specific reference to insurance policy is considered to be a breach of a policy condition to not disclose the existence of this policy to third parties.	We are not aware of any public benefit in publicly disclosing this information that could outweigh the detriment.
2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal Section 3.7.1.3, pg 50, bullet point 1	Opex	Specific security domain details	Information affecting the security of the network	Public disclosure may jeopardise the security of the network.	Public disclosure may harm the security of the network if the information is used with malicious intent.	We are not aware of any public benefit in publicly disclosing this information that could outweigh the detriment.
2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal Section 4.7, pg 66, Table 4-4, last row	Capex	Bushfire criticality model	Information affecting the security of the network	Public disclosure may jeopardise the security of the network.	Public disclosure may harm the security of the network for customers if the information is used with malicious intent.	We are not aware of any public benefit in publicly disclosing this information that could outweigh the detriment.
2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal Section 4.9.2.1, pg 76, para 3,	Capex	Work Health and Safety and Public Liability legal advice	Information affecting the security of the network	Public disclosure may jeopardise the security of the network.	Public disclosure may harm the security of the network for customers if the information is used with malicious intent.	We are not aware of any public benefit in publicly disclosing this information that could outweigh the detriment.

2023-28 Revised Revenue Proposal Section 4.10.1.2, pg 103, bullet point 1 pg 104, footnotes 93 - 95	Capex	Operational Technology	Information affecting the security of the network	Public disclosure may jeopardise the security of the network and breach our licence condition.	Public disclosure may harm the security of the network for customers if the information is used with malicious intent.	We are not aware of any public benefit in publicly disclosing this information that could outweigh the detriment.

The dollars in the projects can be used to infer land costs.	Revealing land acquisition forecast cost which is included within the project costs could impact Transgrid's ability to obtain a fair market price for the land. Disclosure could therefore harm Transgrid's commercial interests and ultimately increase costs passed onto customers.	Publication of this information would be harmful (and result in potential cost increases that would flow through to higher bills) and there is no public benefit to disclosure.
